CINCINNATI, 5; NEW YORK (N. L.), 1. The impenetrable pitching of Bob Ewing and the inability of the New Yorks to shake Cincinnati's defense in other respects brought another defeat to the Champions yesterday -two straight-which for an opposing team borders on the unique. As a pitcher Ewing was deliberate but deadly. He took his me in the box, the rooters manifesting their displeasure thereat by counting the seconds on him, but his moist machinations with the ball nad the New York hitters in greater ball nad the New York nitters in greater difficulties than they have been hitherto this season. They had such an arduous afternoon with his salivary service that only one of them completed the full roster of the roosts. They made only three hits off Ewing, and but one of these figured in a run, it being made by Sammy Strang, emergency hitter. The other two New Yorkers who made safe swats rambled till the Red Legs cut them down.

The score was 5 to 1, McGianity pitching well well enough to have heid the Red it to a much ti hier score with clean support. A mull by American the fourth inning accounted for two of Cincinnati's runs, and wabbly playing with Taylor in the ninth accounted for two more. The Reds, on the other hand, played a sharp fielding game, scooping and ehooting ground hits with pronounced precision and quickness. Ewing not only had the spit ball dropping away just as he wanted it to, but he slammed the ball through with a world of speed, and of times it was reposing in Phelpe's big glove while the New Yorks were still swinging.

The first three innings were arid and brief. Corcoran nipped Bresnahan in the second by making a fine stop back of second base. Then Steinfeldt made a swift play on Mertes's hit lick after Ewing had deflected it. The Reds ran into a double play in the second inning and the New Yorks into one in the fourth. Cincinnati's half of the fourth gave forth runs. Seymour filed to Donlin, but Sebring was safe on a grounder to Gilbert which was too far to the left to be fielded to first. Barry filed to Browne, and Steinfeldt scored Sebring with a two-bagger. Phelps filed to distant left. Mertes ran for the ball, clutched it, dropped It, and Steinfeldt scored Sebring with a two-bagger. Phelps filed to distant left. Mertes ran for the ball, clutched it, dropped It, and Steinfeldt and Kelly scored.

Mertes was the first New York player to reach second base. This was in the eight inning. Sebring muffed Mertes's low fly, and Dahlen walted for four balls. Devlin filed to Barry, and Gilbert, difficulties than they have been hitherto this Jack Taylor and his tible-boied assistants and shut out the Brooklyns yesterday. Taylor was an enigma, and his assistants performed their functions just as capably. Smott's single, a base on balls to Dunleavy, Burke's single and a force-out gave the Cardinals two runs in the second inning. They seemed one run in the fourth on Dunleavy's hit, Burke's out at first and Warner's whack for a base. The score:

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR GRAVESEND. Patchogue Stakes and Other Races Have Filled Well.

The card presented by the Brooklyn Jockey Club to-day is an unusually large one, all the races being well filled. The feature is the Patchogue Stakes, selling, for three-yearolds and upward. Letola has been working well and may be returned the winner, although King Pepper, with only 93 pounds up, will be hard to beat. Right and True and Ascension will also be well supported.

The handicap for three-year-olds and up. third on the card, brings together a very good field. Go Between on his easy victory at Belmont Park may be the best, with Spring, Dekaber, Flyback, New York, Graceful all having a chance.

In the first race, for maiden two-year-olds, J. E. Madden's Comedienne may be the choice. Old England will attract many betters in the second race, at about three-quarters of a mile.

Leonard Joe Hayman, Phyllis A. and Jessamine look the best in the fifth race while in the last Don Royal may graduate free; the maiden ranks.

Billiardist Fournil Dead. Word was received in this city yesterday from Paris telling of the death in France on May 14 of Edouard Fournil, the billiard expert. Fournil was one of the greatest of billiard players, ranking with Schaefer, Slosson, Sutton, Vignaux, Cure and other stars of the first magnitude. He visited this country several years ago, playing a contest with Tom Gallagher at Maurice Daly's academy He was a big man and very grace-ful, a fine masse shot player, in fact a strong all-around player. His death was due to consumption.

Fournil played in the 18:2 balk line tourney in France in 1902, with Cure, Vignaux and Gibelin in which there was a tie for first place among the first three named. In the play-of he was second. He made the best grand average in that tournament, 27.73.

TRAVIS BEATEN BY TRAVERS.

SURPRISES IN THE FOX HILLS GOLF MATCHES.

Byers Falls Before Rhett and Ward Beaten by Knapp-Seely Scoring in Low Figures Semi-Final of the Metropolitan Association Championship To-day.

If any one noticed a red, snoky blaze down Staten Island way last night, it was not a bon-fire of Travis's longshafted clubs. Aithough beaten by 7 and 6 in the Metropolitan Golf Association championship yesterday, the greatest catastrophe in the tournament career of the famous amateur, Travis laid the blame mostly on his putting.

Every visitor and player at the Fox Hills Golf Club was loud in praise of the course and enthusiastic over the sequence of notable matches. In the morning J. M. Rhett, a bulldog in tenacity and capable of very brilliant 4 up at the turn. Byers went out in 42 and did not win until the tenth, where he had a 4 Rhett had a 4 on the 569-yard thirteenth hole by getting down a four foot put, and won out at tournaments in T. V. Birmingham, who led him by a hole at the turn, both going out in 42. Travis came in with 37, but did not catch Birmingham until the fourteenth hole, finally winning by 2 and 1. Birmingham took 40 to come home in. Travers, who beat Dunning by 8 and 5, went out in 38 and then afternoon, and began with a screamer, but the latter foozled and only sent the ball fifty or sixty yards. The drives were about even from the second tee, but Travers had to play the odd. He made the green, but Travis overran it slightly, using a longshafted mashle. He was short in pitching back. Pinying the third, Travis sliced his drive into long grass and could not reach the green Travers. Travis had lost two by poor drives and one by slack work with his longshafted on his second. This meant three holes for Travers. Travis had lost two by poor drives and one by slack work with his longshafted mashie.

Travis had the best of the long game on the fourth, but Travers stole the hole by a put from the edge of the green. Halving the short hole, three puts cost Travis the sixth. Playing the seventh, a twenty-five foot put won for him, leaving Travers still 4 up. They halved the next two, although. Travers was out of bounds on his drive for the ninth. Wild plays with the long mashie cost Travis the next three holes, which settled the match.

The long driver gave Travis always too much to do on his second, except on the fourth drive, and the long mashie completed the demoralization of his game. They played the bye holes, the card being 39, 39—78 for Travers and 43, 43—86 for Travis.

SAM HILDRETH REINSTATED.

WILL TRAIN FOR E. E. SMATHERS ON LOCAL TRACKS.

Is Forgiven by the Jockey Club and Will Be Here To-day-Asked to Keep Away From the Eastern Turf Because of a Quarrel With John E. Madden.

St. Louis, May 25 .- E. C. Hildreth, the well known trainer of thoroughbreds left here for New York last night to assume charge of the racing stable of E. E. Smathers. Before leaving Hildreth said that he had been assured by the Jockey Club that he would be eligible to train again on the Eastern turf after an absence of several years due to a quarrel with John E. Madden at West Chester. Hildreth has been under contract to Smathers for the last two years but has been kept under the Jockey Club's ban in spite of numerous requests for a reinstate-

When McChesney went East two years ago ostensibly to meet Water Boy in a match race at Brighton Beach, Hildreth accompanied the Western horse with the belief that he would be allowed to train him, but although strong influences were brought to bear in his behalf, Hildreth was barred.

Last winter Smathers', through Hildreth purchased a large number of horses, many of whom are in the East at present. It was then understood that the trainer would get a livense, but this spring when he renewed his application he received no encouragement. Since then it is understood that powerful friends of Hildreth have interceded for him with the result that he was notified several days ago to go Fast and all would be forgiven.

He is considered one of the best trainers in America and he will take McChesney and several other horses owned and trained by him to the Eastern tracks. Hildreth's quarrel with Madden was due to jealousy. Hildreth had been the trainer of the late William C. Whitney's horses and when he was released from his engagement he was inclined to blame Madden.

The men came to blows at Morris Park and shortly after that Hildreth was notified by the Jockey Club that it would be well for him not to apply for another trainer's license. Since that time he has operated on the Western tracks with much success and was the means of interesting Smathers n the racing game.
